

What to ask injured athletes

Incorrect answers to these questions should raise suspicions that a child may have a concussion and needs a more thorough assessment.

What quarter or period is it now?

What venue are we at today?

Who scored last in this game?

Did your team win the last game?

What team did you play last week?